THIRTY-NINTH YEAR, No. 37

BAY ST. LOUIS P. T. A. HOLDS FIRST SESSION AND PREPARES FOR NEW YEAR

Committee Named for Forthcoming Reception of Members of Faculty and Patrons of Central and High School.

Bay St. Louis Central School P. T. A. held its first meeting for the 1930-31 season at Bay St. Louis, Monday evening, with Mrs. (Dr.) James A. Evans presiding; Miss Helen Vaughn, vice president; Mrs. (Dr.) C. J. Buckley, secretary, and Mrs. Chas. J. Mitchell, treasurer.

Mrs. Harold E. Weston of Logtown, and Hancock county chairman, discussed November meeting to be held in Bay St. Louis, and to include all counties, wishes all to have their programs in readiness. Mrs. Weston spoke last week at Waveland and is appearing at all county schools.

The program committee appointed for the year includes Mrs. Richard Logan, Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Mrs. Donald Marshall.

The hospitality committee is composed of Mrs. E. S. Drake, Mrs. W. A. McDonald, Mrs. A. V. P. Smith, and Mrs. Kenneth W. Pettigrew.

In order that teachers and parents may meet and get better acquainted the annual reception will be held some time during the present month and it is planned to make this annual affair one of unusual interest and of larger attendance. It was also discussed and resolved that a reception be held at some private home, suitable for such a gathering, thus giving a more intimate touch and making for a more social atmosphere. Date for this reception will be announced within next few days by the committee in charge.

Bay St. Louis Teachers' Association is quite active and accomplishes much that is constructive and bids for the future. It has proven a factor of value to the school and its success rests well for those who head the organization and others who help to shape its destinies.

LOCAL RESIDENT BACK FROM TRIP TO CHICAGO METROPOLIS

A. J. Piazza Visits Relatives In "Chi" and Louisville—Enjoys Vacation.

A. J. Piazza, well-known senior member of the firm of Piazza Bros., whose first-class barber shop on the beach front is well-known to local and visiting patronage, returned home Saturday night from his first vacation working at his trade almost continuously for nearly twelve years, save during the world war when he answered the call of his country's colors.

Mr. Piazza, accompanied by his mother, returned home Saturday night after a visit to Vincent Piazza (brother) at Chicago and where most of the time was spent. This was his first visit to the big city, he said, and during the comparative few days I was there I practically saw nearly everything of first interest to be seen. The tall buildings along the lake front and their towers and tops illuminated by night in multi-color was indeed a beautiful sight by night. The Wrigley Building, that chewing gum built, and the other giant structures that stand out amid the many other tall buildings are well worthy of seeing, and—of remembering.

"Then we visited the famous Tribune tower building, owned by 'the world's greatest newspaper,' with imbedded in the walls of the lobby a stone from many of the famous and historical buildings of the world, especially old Europe. The view from the tower is all-revealing. We toured the city by auto and visited practically every point of interest."

He said while Lincoln Park was attractive and its natural beauty of more than ordinary interest, the zoo did not compare with that at Audubon park, at New Orleans. And of that opine he is right.

On the homeward trip he and his mother stopped at a point near Louisville where his brother is engaged in road construction work, and brought with them two children in order they may attend school in Bay St. Louis.

"I was glad to go," said Mr. Piazza, "I saw a whole lot and enjoyed every moment, but, while I hope to be able to take another trip next year, I am glad to be back in Bay St. Louis where the sun seems to shine brighter, the skies bluer and climate better; where living conditions are better, and above all, where there is good drinking water. He says while away he did not have a drink of water."

During his absence his brother and co-partner, Mr. Sam Piazza, with his assistants, conducted the business.

Heitzmann-Weinberg.

Albert Heitzmann, Jr., of the Bell Telephone Company and Miss Alice Weinberg, both of this city, were quietly married at Gulfport, Wednesday morning, first a civil marriage ceremony, followed by a religious ceremony blessed by Father Spengler of the Church of St. John. The couple are registered at the Hotel Weston. Both are well known and well connected.

TEACHERS MEET TO BE HELD SAT. Y.

First Session for Scholastic Year 1930-1931 In Bay St. Louis at Courthouse.

Saturday will be an interesting day for school teachers in Hancock when members of the pedagogic corps will assemble in Bay St. Louis, the 12th, at 10 o'clock A. M. This will be the first meeting of the association for 1930-1931 scholastic year and it is expected much will be proposed and transacted in the interest of both teachers and the term.

The program for the day will be as follows: "America" led by John Farmer Invocation, — By Rev. C. C. Clark Election and installation of officers. Appointment of committees. Announcements. Organization of Departmental Meetings.

ELECTION FOR GAS CALLED OFF

Gas Company to Have Supplied Bay St. Louis Fails To Make Bond

Special election to have been held by the City of Bay St. Louis on September 16th, has been called off, and for the present the subject of natural gas for the city will be held in abeyance.

A bond in amount of $5000.00 was to have been filed by the Gas States Natural Gas Company of Jackson, Miss., as guarantee of its intention before submitting of granting a twenty-five year franchise by the city to voters.

On Wednesday word was given at Jackson that for the present the bond would not be signed due to the fact there were various companies forming and others in process of formation; that several were combining and pooling their interests. It is expected since competition with Monroe, (La.) gas fields was apparent, Jackson folks would have to meet this competition and by combining would be in better position to each secure an outlet for the many wells brought in and at the same time give consumers better figures.

It was pointed out Louisiana competition would be keen and would have to be reckoned with. Combined interests at Jackson would be in better position to meet this competition, it was said.

Mayor Traub stated to The Echo the subject of natural gas for Bay St. Louis would now come up again. He felt the delay would only be temporary, and at the end would serve to better supply the people and at a minimum cost. Our people's interest must be protected, he said, especially over a long period as twenty-five years.

King's Daughters Hospital Fund Shows Added Figures This Week

Slowly but surely the total amount of money collected by donations for King's Daughters Hospital building fund grows and each week finds added figures to the total. New donations in cash are:

Miss Geraldine Ames	$100.00
Miller's Garage, Waveland	5.00

Amount in bank up to date, as reported by Mrs. A. F. Fournier, $2,375.57.

New Location For Bay Furniture Company In Near Future

Awaiting the disposal of the affairs of the Riviera Furniture Company in the "Monte Ridge" corner Union and Hancock streets, now being liquidated through process of the courts, the Bay Furniture Company, Ulysses Cuevas, announces it will occupy the quarters when vacant. Mr. Cuevas says he will sell out the present stock at sacrifice and move into the new location with a fine and up-to-date stock.

Bay City Rotarians Attend New Orleans Rotary Club Event

Arthur A. Scaffide, secretary Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, accepted the invitation of President Nicholas Bauer, New Orleans Rotary Club, Wednesday to be present with other Gulf Coast Rotary officers to meet Rotarian Rudolf J. Mumb, one of the charter members and organizers of the Rotary Club, Vienna, Austria, and an internationally known character and member of a distinguished European family. The program was International Service and Significance of the Vienna convention, 1931, and the Bay Delegate reports a splendid time, both from a constructive view and fellowship angle. It was significant that Bay St. Louis was officially represented.

TELLS OF TRIP TO EUROPE

Mrs. L. S. Elliott Receives Visit From Brother, Priest, Just Returned From Abroad.

Mrs. L. S. Elliott and family in Union street has had the pleasure of a visit from her brother, Rev. R. J. Kirschenheuter, C. M., of Denver, Colorado, who arrived in New Orleans this week from a trip of several months spent in England and continental Europe. He was accompanied on the tour by Mr. and Mrs. Brook Dickson, well-known New Orleans residents, and their nephew, Mr. Jack O'Connor. Mr. Dickson is president of the Brook Tarpaquin Company.

Father Kirschenheuter tells of the trip in most glowing terms; of its charm in every way. The lure of the ocean trip, the excitement of visiting historical places and, although each city is entirely different from the other, there is something intriguing and compelling about the things that are of foreign lands to that extent that after you are back home again you secretly promise to return at some future date. He speaks of the Passion Play, which he witnessed at Oberammergau, Bavaria, with tenderest recollection. He says the story of the world's supreme tragedy is neither performed nor played, as these terms are generally accepted in regard of the stage and theater, but lived during each performance with the utmost reverence. It is so tense in realism and dramatically powerful that its impress is indelible. The players, he said, are imbued with devotion and piety. Portrayal of the respective parts are of such realism that one forgets self and feels the tenseness of it all.

Passion Play Eight Hours. Eight hours are required for the daily performance, divided into morning and afternoon sections, and during the noon time interval that time is devoted to relaxation and luncheon. The great auditorium is roofed save for that section where the great heavenly orb forms the canopy and mountains in the distance, with their haze of purple and pink form a setting which only nature can paint.

Other Sections of Europe. Dresden, Germany was the most delightful and interesting city, as well as those of Belgium, Switzerland and Italy. Paris was life, he said. Germany displayed its cultural aspect by medium of its music. Every large city in Germany, he said was well worthy of a visit. The civic beauty is appealing.

"Rome is a much larger metropolis than I expected to see," said the returned visitor from abroad. "In Rome there are many modern buildings of size and metropolitan mien, and this invasion, if I may so call it, in time marshall and remove much of the old that make the Eternal City what it is. The glory of Rome's architecture is threatened. Genoa and other cities under Italian skies were visited. Before leaving Rome, the party visited the Vatican and received the Holy Father's blessing."

While the trip from the States to Europe was started from New York, the return was with New Orleans as final point of destination. On the homeward trip several ports in Spain were touched and a day's stop at Havana, Cuba, capped the climax of the return journey, before landing after the last water lap.

"Our journey eastward over the Atlantic," said Father Kirschenheuter, "took us to Iceland, then later we steamed down to England and visited London and other British points. It was here that we negotiated for our trip to continental Europe," said the reverend Father who was about to take his first tour of the world. It is quite the vogue now to motor Europe. One travels over a country and impossible to see by railroad and other conveyance, the latter costly. The motor trip includes carrying baggage, hotels and passports taken care of. There is no red tape to be encountered. One travels through the different countries the same as crossing from one State to another in the good old U. S. A."

This arrangement proved very satisfactory. It was possible to see

PROPERTY OF CITY IS IMPROVED

Various Sundry Contracts Mark Work Around City Hall and Other Public Places.

The city commissioner have workmen placing a double water drain at the head of Carroll avenue, with Wm. D. Hays superintending the forcing of water pipes under the hard surfaced beach boulevard by water pressure. There will be two catch-basins, one each side of the head of the avenue and water will drain off the streets at this intersection into the bay water. Building of this drain pipe system at the head of Carroll avenue will solve a condition that has proven of much trouble and inconvenience ever since the front roadway was hard surfaced in the absence of proper drainage.

Favre to Do Concrete Work.

Joseph L. Favre, local contractor, has secured the work of building a concrete walkway around the city hall building and also of replacing the sidewalk on Hancock near corner of Sycamore, which the city had to replace in order to properly attend defective drainage.

It was also given the contract of cutting six street approaches to the Montluzin avenue, which the city ordered last year, but never used because vehicle approaches were never built. Sidewalks will be cut down to street level and street levels on each side of entrance way there will be curved curbing set at proper angles.

All of this work given to Mr. Favre was in competitive bids, it was so stated at the city hall. He is one of the best of city and county and experienced.

Contractor Osbourne's Work.

Contractor Edw. W. Osbourne and force of workmen are making decided headway renovating the city hall. Strange to say this public building was never screened and the contract includes screening the entire place. A blue is also to be built and rather than have a small heater in every office of the building there will be placed one large central heater in the hallway on the second floor. Completion of this work would not only give the building uniform heat but would prove of economic value as well and also reducing a fire hazard to a minimum.

Beauty and Economy Combined.

Another worthy improvement is the painting of the waterworks tower, at the city's waterworks plant, or of aluminum paint and inscription of "Bay St. Louis" informs the airman or tourist going through the name of the city. It is good advertising to say nothing of informative value. It is contemplated to store the signal light atop the tower and also inscription designating the city waterworks and power plant.

In addition to painting the water tower and protecting it from the corroding influences of exposure to weather every fire plug over the city will be given the same protective coat of aluminum paint composition.

After Twenty-Five Years.

The city hall was built twenty-five years since and the attention now given is not only a matter of pride but well a matter of necessity. All floors of the city hall will be electrically scraped and polished back to natural wood color. This work will begin this week and about mark completion of improvements.

W. F. Lecher, Bay St. Louis sign painter, has inscribed in neat and forceful lettering, "City Hall, Bay St. Louis," on north side of building. This for benefit of not only strangers in the city and passing through it but for all passengers on trains. It is good advertising.

SPECTACLE OF 'DIXIANA' DONE IN TECHNICOLOR

"Dixiana," the musical romantic drama at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday, starring Bebe Daniels, Radio Pictures' star, and Everett Marshall, Metropolitan Opera baritone, has been done largely in technicolor to attain the brilliance of color in the gorgeous Mardis Gras sequences of its period.

Set in New Orleans in 1840, and filled with the turbulent passionate life of the gay southern city, "Dixiana," makes full use in costumes and settings of the brilliance of that era. The atmosphere of the times has been captured by the use of technicolor insuring a faithful reproduction of such celebrated New Orleans establishments as Cayetano's Circus Theater, rendezvous of the social elite; the fashionable gambling houses, the gay streets and houses, and the beautiful southern beauty spots.

Bebe Daniels and Everett Marshall are starred with Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, mad wags of "Rio Rita" and "The Cuckoos," in comedy roles.

Bay St. Louis Scene Of Gulf Coast Press Club Monthly Meeting

The Mississippi Coast Press Club met Monday evening for the usual monthly meeting and dinner in the sun parlor of Hotel Weston, with Charles G. Moreau of The Sea Coast Echo chairman of arrangements and local host. Ralph E. Brash, president of Gulfport, presided at the business meeting that followed.

The program was in the nature of a round table discussion of matters relative to printing and publishing on the coast. Those in attendance were: L. S. Elliott, John Damborino, Chas. G. Moreau, Bay St. Louis; Ed Lipscomb, Miss Flora Langley, Miss Mary Lena Fentress, Clayton Rand, Ralph Brash, Gulfport; B. B. Bloomfield, W. G. Wilkes, Biloxi; O. E. Simon, Long Beach.

Leo W. Sear, business cashier of Hancock County Bank, of Bay St. Louis, was a guest of honor.

The meeting adjourned to meet again on the first Monday in October at Biloxi.

BAY CITY SCHOOLS ARE OPEN

City's Public Schools Open Monday Morning Under Most Favorable Auspices

City Superintendent of Education S. J. Ingram expresses much satisfaction over the success which marked the different schools of the city Monday morning. In each instance of the different schools there was an increase over last year's enrollment. At Central School the building is all too small. It had originally been planned to make of Webb School one for the primary grades of that section of the city, but in order to reduce congestion, it will be necessary to put back grade work, Prof. Ingram stated.

At Central School there were quite a number of patrons and invited guests, officials and others. Attorney Robt. L. Genin was principal speaker of the occasion and took occasion to felicitate all concern on the success of the school. He said the city had not made its investment of schools, equipment and teaching faculty in vain. On the contrary, he continued it had proved a gilt-edged investment. Our schools, he said, had reached such point of efficiency that many people resided in Bay St. Louis for the one and only main purpose of securing this benefit for their children. He interspersed his remarks with a number of anecdotes illustrating high spots of his address and also for the entertainment of the student body and others.

Edward Mayfield, a graduate of Polytechnical Institute of Tennessee and a graduate in the commercial department of Bowling Green University, Kentucky, commercial work and be assistant coach.

Miss Rachel Tarver, graduate of Mississippi State College for Women, this year's class, home economic.

Miss Ruth Porter, Mississippi State College for Women graduate of this year, Spanish and Latin and part time commercial work. Miss Marie Louise Renard of New Orleans, Sophomore Newcomb College graduate, mathematics. For three years she has taught at Litcher, La. Miss Julia Blaise of Bay St. Louis who has been connected with the school system before, and who graduated at the University of Alabama this year, returns to the Bay School, to teach grade history.

Other teachers at Central School, Miss Bessie Givens, English; Miss Olean Mauffrey, history; Miss Lois Quinn, fifth grade and girls' coach; Miss Helen Vaughn, fourth grade; Miss Lydia Boyd Blount, third grade; Miss Lavinia Saucier, second grade; Mrs. Celeste Ashcraft, primary.

Webb School teachers: Mrs. F. A. Wright, principal; Miss Carmelite Spore, Bay St. Louis who has been teaching at Haynesville, La., and Miss Verna Berry.

Mrs. W. W. Stockstill heads Taylor School as principal.

Prof. S. J. Ingram was reelected superintendent of the schools in July of last year for period of three years and efficiently heads the system.

Prof. Ingram attended summer school at Tulane again this summer and completed his master's degree work. He specializes in school administration and related psychological studies.

Recent Legion Minstrels.

Much regret is expressed over the inclemency of the weather which prevailed last evening recently when local Legion Post gave a minstrel benefit performance, and which mitigated against the probably better financial success of the entertainment had the weather been of a better brand. The benefit was given at the school house, for which the legion paid a rental.

CHURCH IS THANKFUL FOR FUNDS

Rev. Patrick McAlpine Issues Card of Thanks For Church Our Lady of the Gulf.

Realizing a sum of approximately two thousand dollars to meet a set obligation of the church of Our Lady of the Gulf, and of which drive Rev. A. J. Gmelch, pastor, appointed Rev. Patrick McAlpine, assistant, as executive chairman and active manager of the drive for funds, the church and its pastors are grateful to parishioners for the response that was given. The church has a bonded indebtedness and each year so much of the original amount, plus interest, must be paid. To do so this year a drive for cash was necessary, and so successful was the response, that, in return, Rev. Father McAlpine, has issued the card herewith and through the medium of this publication thanks for the times and conditions in the business world. We know the difficult problems which confront you, you have and your families in the various activities in which you are engaged at the present time, and for that reason we appreciate all the more the help which you have been pleased to offer us.

Let our daily prayer be that our Merciful God may come to our speedy assistance, that the bright sunshine of relief coming from the Throne of the Triune God may bring to us all the most cherished desires of our hearts.

Should others wish to help in wiping out our huge church debt they may communicate with the Rectory. Again we renew our most cordial thanks and personal good wishes to each and all.

PERKINS SCORES AS VICTOR

Wins In Finals Tuesday Night in Rotary Club Miniature Golf Tournament.

With Charles Jinks and H. Grady Perkins in the finals of Bay Rotary Club miniature golf contest, the match was played Tuesday night at the Browne Golf Course and was one of the closest matches played on the course, it was stated.

The final result was Perkins with 60 and Jinks 61. Almost throughout the game was tie, then there would be a disparity of one point and back again to "neck and neck."

Going to the eighteenth hole the contestants were again tied, but Jinks playing first made this in 5, while Perkins had better luck, going through the "lighthouse" hazard on one stroke, and into the cup with a 4.

Many friends watched the players with calm and interest. Seemingly every one held breath; few words were spoken. This was in consideration of the players, not to be disturbed.

The tournament was one of much interest and the Bay Rotary Club members throughout the games showed an average score of better than usual.

Members of Clerical Force Louisville & Nashville R. R. Leave For Montgomery

There was quite a party of relatives and friends at the Louisville and Nashville R. R. depot Sunday night to see off members of the executive and clerical contingent here, before connected with the divisional auditing offices of the railroad in this office.

Since that office has been moved to Montgomery those who would go were offered choice to go with the work. W. C. Evans, executive head, was among the number, also Mr. Wm. Wells. Ladies from Bay St. Louis and of the force leaving included Mrs. William Ramond, Miss Eugenia Ramond, Miss Armande Del Bondolo, Miss Thelma Eagan.

Board of Supervisors Make Appropriation State Research Commission

The Board of Supervisors Wednesday appropriated the sum of $570.00 to be used for Hancock County, and as its quota of 5 cents per capita population, by the Mississippi Research Commission created by Senate Bill No. 203 of the 1930 session of the Mississippi Legislature.

President Emilio Cue, as well as the other members were heartily in favor of making the appropriation, realizing vast benefit to ultimately accrue from the results of the commission.

The purpose of the commission is to make an expert investigation into, and study and analysis of, all phases of agricultural, commercial, industrial, governmental and other conditions in the state; to submit a comprehensive, expert report, with conclusions and recommendations to the Governor and to the Legislature, prior to or during the 1932 session thereof; to publish and distribute, information as may properly be published and disseminated throughout this state, other states and foreign countries, as set forth in the announcement of the commission.

This commission's work is to be financed by the state appropriating $500,000 and to be matched dollar for dollar by contributions from counties and municipalities. Hancock county's quota is set at $1,700 this to be given by city and county jointly. This sum is arrived at by five cents per capita citizens of county and city.

OLD MAN IS FOUND IN YARD DEAD

Alexander Stackhouse, Sexton Church of Our Lady Of The Gulf, Was Man of Attainment.

Alexander Stackhouse, sexton for the church and Rectory of Our Lady of the Gulf, was found limp and fallen to the ground in the yard of the rectory Wednesday morning at an early hour by Rev. Father Patrick McAlpine, and who later was pronounced to have died from a heart attack.

"When I picked him up," said Father McAlpine, "I was satisfied he was then dead, although his body was warm and his pulse was beating."

The remains were taken care of by Fahey Undertaking Company and held awaiting more definite instructions from relatives of the deceased who live in California.

Alexander Stackhouse was well-known by sight and trusted about town. He was quiet, unassuming and spoke to no one. People knew who he was, but none knew his name or where he came from. He came to Father Gmelch on May 1st, 1924, was given his keep and a salary, served well, and has been here ever since.

He was 77 years old in March of this year, a native of Quebec, Canada. He was a graduate of the Royal College of Dentistry, Ontario, Canada, getting his diploma in 1887 and in 1916 graduated from the Chiropractic College of St. Louis. He was a member of many societies and organizations and certificates to that effect was found in his belonging.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. M. Daley, of Montreal, Quebec; and two daughters, namely, Mrs. Fred S. Price, of Porterville, California, and Miss Florence Stackhouse, also of the same State.

Mrs. Price wired and said letter followed. Body held pending arrival of this letter.

Delightful Dance This Evening at Pass Christian Yacht Club Pavilion

Mrs. Lelia Courtenay announces a delightful dance this Friday evening at the Pass Christian Yacht Club Pavilion, for a worthy cause, and Bay St. Louis is especially invited to participate.

There will be a most excellent band from Gulfport for the occasion. The pavilion is spacious and is located where the cool breezes blow all the time, thus insuring pleasure and comfort. This dance was to have taken place Wednesday but was postponed to this Friday, Sept. 12.

Teachers Registered at Hotel Weston For the School Season

Members of the faculty of Bay St. Louis city schools began to arrive last week-end, and are located at different places:

At Hotel Weston for the season are Miss Ruth Porter, of Shannon, Miss., Miss Mary Louise Renard, of New Orleans; Miss Lois Quinn, of Bogalusa, La.; Lydia Boyd Blount, Water Valley, Miss.; Miss Helen Vaughn, Magnolia, Miss.; Miss Bessie Givens, Westonia, Hancock county, Miss.; Mr. Edward Mayfield, of Tennessee.

There must have been something radically wrong about Congressman Ross Collins' opponent in the recent Fifth district primary that they preferred to send Ross back to Washington.

Four aviators were killed during the progress of the national air races in Chicago last week. In view of the fact that nearly one thousand planes participated in the races the number of fatalities is not considered excessive.

Because she is a "straddler" on the liquor question the Illinois Anti-Saloon League has withdrawn its support from Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick and will vote for Mrs. Lotie Holman O'Neil as its choice for United States senator.

"In choosing one to serve you in a public office," says The Grenada Sentinel, "follow the same principal you would follow in selecting one for employment in your own private business. Let ability, honesty, and experience decide."

Correct this sentence: "I owe all that I am to my wife; she has made a man out of me."—Exchange. Just get any married man to admit such a thing, and you will have a human exhibit worthy of a place in the national museum of freaks.

"For the purpose of keeping Alabama in the dry column" old Tom Heflin is organizing "an independent Democratic party." Isn't it for the purpose of keeping himself in the United States senate? But what's the difference, since either purpose is doomed to failure.

"Amos 'n Andy," undoubtedly the world's most popular radio entertainers, receive $125,000 per year for their fifteen-minute talk six nights each week, and have been guaranteed $350,000 for their first talking picture the making of which is now under way at Hollywood.

The French government deserves no adverse criticism for its action in ordering William Randolph Hearst to leave that country. It is only a pity that our own government does not pursue the same policy in the case of foreign agitators who are from time to time meddling with our affairs.

Federal prohibition agents continue to capture moonshine stills in our gulf coast section, but rarely bag the operators of the illicit plants. The operators of the stills have a system of grape-vine telegraphic communication and when Uncle Sam's men make their raids the "shiners" have sought the tall timber.

The editor of the Hattiesburg American vouches for the truthfulness of a story concerning the killing of a five foot rattlesnake with sixteen rattles near that city last week. But for the fact that we know Brother Harmon is "as dry as the driest" we would think he has been seeing snakes as the result of imbibing moonshine liquor.

A Louisiana refining company has arranged for its filling stations to sell cigars, cigarettes and smoking tobacco; a little more, and one cannot tell a station from a drug-store.—Mobile Register. If this company would only add ice cream, soft drinks and chewing gum to the stock handled at the station is resemblance to an apothecary shop would be complete.

Government of the people is worth nothing unless elected officials honestly represent the interests of the people.—Yazoo Sentinel. That's pure and unadulterated truth, brother; but the trouble is there are so few officials who "represent the interests of the people." The idea that our's is a government of, for and by the people no longer obtains, is a fact that cannot be disputed. The interests of the people is a secondary consideration with most of public officials.

In a way we sympathize with the fellow who was arrested the other day for jumping a four hundred dollar Jackson hotel bill. He had occupied one of the best suites in the hotel for three months and never paid a cent. He put on a big front, looking very prosperous and important, and the hotel manager did not have the nerve to present him with a board bill. When a slick rascal can put one over on the average Mississippi hotel keeper he deserves a chromo instead of being arrested and slapped into a jail cell.

The price of cotton has dropped to the lowest level it has reached since 1913, but the suggestion made by Governor Moody of Texas "that it would give considerable relief to cotton farmers if a sufficient number of people of means would join another buy-a-bale-of-cotton movement" is not meeting much encouragement. Even should the retirement of five million or more bales of the present year's crop be successful, the speculators would still have the whip handle and control the price just the same. They have always done it and will continue to do it. The laws of supply and demand cuts no ice in their gambling.

RAILROADS AND BUS LINES

IT MAY BE THAT Messrs. Smith and Scott, members of the State railroad commission who voted to grant that franchise to the Mississippi Transportation Company to operate bus lines throughout the State, were honest and sincere in their action, but they are being roundly criticized and condemned just the same. The railroads have done more for the development and prosperity of Mississippi than all other factors combined, and now to encourage competition for them from motor freight and passenger bus lines is neither right nor fair. If the motor transportation companies paid taxes in anything like proportion to the taxes paid by the railroads it would not be so bad. But they pay no taxes and operate their heavy vehicles over the roads and highways, built, paid for and maintained at the expense of individual taxpayers—and the railroads—is damaging and wearing out our roads and highways. The Echo believes in fair play at all times, but it has never known of another instance where it was so flagrantly disregarded as it has been in the action of Messrs. Smith and Scott. The over-burdened taxpayers of their districts will hold them accountable is a certainty admitting of no doubt.

ABOUT TIME TO GET OUT.

When a candidate for the high, responsible and dignified office of chief executive of a great State asserts that he "will whip hell" out of any persons who challenges his statements, it seems to us about time for him to get out of the race. Such threats are in keeping with the blustering of a notorious ward heeler in the slums of a city where the underworld holds the balance of power, but it ill becomes an aspirant for the highest office within the gift of the patriotic and intelligent men and women voters of the great State of Mississippi. And the Echo still contends that at least one of the already announced candidates for governor will get out of the race long before the primary is held next August.

IN THE MIDDLE OF BAD FIX.

Alabama Hoovercrats find themselves in the middle of a darn bad fix and where must decide whether they will return to the Democratic fold and vote for John H. Bankhead or follow old Tom Heflin any longer. The Republicans over there will not put out a candidate for the United States senate but have given Heflin an official endorsement and are urging every member of their party to support and vote for him. Now what are the Hoovercrats going to do? Will they continue to listen to old Tom's rantings and join a bunch of Republican office holders and negroes in a fruitless effort to defeat the Democratic nominee. They have about as much chance to do that as ice not melting in hades.

INTREPID FLYERS.

Those French aviators who flew from Paris to New York last week have received a royal welcome during their visit to this country. Their courage and daring in making their non-stop flight after so many other aviators had failed, challenges admiration and their wonderful reception on this side of the Atlantic is sure to more firmly cement the bonds of friendship between France and the United States.

JEFFERSONIAN STANDARDS

Men aspiring to political preferment should base their claims on their own personal merit and fitness for office. The voters are awake and every candidate who solicits their suffrage and support must measure to the Jeffersonian standard. He shall possess these qualifications:—honesty, capability to perform the duties of the office he seeks and an unblemished record as a party man.

DIFFERENT STANDARDS

As recently as the year 1882 candidates for office in Mississippi resented any accusation impugning their honesty or veracity by rival aspirants. How times have changed since then? Today they denounce each other as liars, slanderers, thieves and all-round crooks. Back in the old days such denunciation would have meant death to the man who made such charges.

NO COAT TAILS TO RIDE.

In former campaigns it has been the custom of candidates for minor State offices to align themselves with this or that gubernatorial aspirant, but such will hardly be the case in the coming contest. The coat tails of none of the presently announced candidates for governor are neither long nor strong enough for any minor candidate to swing too.

FACTIONALISM DOOMED.

Factionalism has run its course in Mississippi if we are to believe all the reports coming from every nook and corner of the commonwealth. Appeals to passion and prejudice will fall on deaf ears and woe be it to the candidates who seek to gain office by such tactics.

GET THIS FELLOW, MR. OFFICER!

The one-eyed automobile and also the one with defective brakes is almost as much a menace as one driven by a drunken motorist. The drivers of all three should be made to feel the heavy hand of the law.

From World's Work we learn that England has reduced her prison population by half in the last fifty years and is actually selling of surplus prisons for lack of prisoners. This reduction is the number of jailbirds took place while the general population was being multiplied by two. Quite a different condition exists in our great shame—in the United States, where both Federal and State governments are forced to build additional prisons to relieve the congestion in those already built.

LOCAL SIDELIGHTS

A WILD DUCK THAT HAS BECOME DOMESTICATED.

George Rodolph, whose oyster shop at 115 Citizen street, is a landmark known for a generation for the best table bivalves, is the possessor of a duck that to all appearance and habit is seemingly a domestic one. Yet by birth it is a wild (Mallard) duck. Mr. Rodolph caught it in his cast-net, strange to say. It flew southward when the flock in great myriads came south. Had it, it is thought, lost its way, and was exhausted when captured from the surface of the water. The duck was taken home, nourished and sheltered until finally from confinement it became just as tame as any other duck and never has left its habitat or environment for any long length of time. Mr. Rodolph says the only evidence of its wild instinct is that the duck will fly over the water near the beach and back again. "I have clipped its wing time and again," Mr. Rodolph's son said, "but that does not prevent its occasional leaving the yard, but only to come back later. It will fly and perch on top of high fences. In a way it is quite a curiosity, even though a member of the yard flock of chicken and other fowl.

HERE'S REAL OPTIMISM FOR ANYBODY.

A well-known ladies' ready-to-wear shop at B'loxi has been placed for the past week or more with such banners advertising stock for sale, also fixtures to go as well.

The writer dropped in on Mr. Bittar, the well-known coast merchant, and expressed much regret over the apparent fact that he was going out of business. And he was asked if the "depression" was the cause. "Not a bit of it," he said. "On the contrary, conditions are better than ever just now and we are on the eve of the return of prosperity for everybody. Yes, my stock is for sale, because I have a better and bigger supply coming," he said.

"But why sell fixtures if you are not going out of business," he was asked. "That's simple," he replied. "To meet better conditions and subsequently better and more business I have better fixtures on the way and must make room."

Mr. Bittar is a successful business man. He has a keen and accurate insight and his optimism is refreshing. Incidentally, it suggests a better spirit and tells of the present trend of things.

PATRONIZING OUR OWN HOTELS AND BOOSTING.

Every well and successfully conducted business is an asset to the community in which it is located. It should be a matter of both personal pride and general interest to see that our business places are patronized. Supported to that extent they will help to reflect better prosperity to one and all.

Our stores, our shops, hotels, tea rooms and in fact every business endeavor spells for the better economic values of our city. Our Weston hotel, one of the more attractive and home-like hostilities one may find anywhere, always pleases guests return and never fail to recommend the Weston. Hotels are important factors of every section. Successfully conducted, catering to the welfare and individual care of every guest means not only favor for that individual business but for the town. How many home folks patronize the dining room of a local hotel? How many go there for Sunday dinner or supper, how many entertain at the local hotels or tea rooms?

There seems to be an unconscious impression prevailing with many that hotels to local residents are entirely foreign and are never given even a thought as being one of closest local factors.

GOV. BIDWELL, ADAM AS SPEAKER IS POPULAR.

Gov. Bidwell Adam is much in demand as a speaker over the State. In fact he has been busy all summer filling dates for different occasions and little or no time has been left for himself aside from his official duties. This young man, even though in a sense, has already arrived, as it were, yet he is looked upon with affectionate regard as the young man with a future.

Gov. Adam has a most pleasing personality, has always something to say, his messages carry; he is of a constructive force and type and it is no surprise that he is popular. A Coast product, educated within the State; a self-made man his success achieved indicates he has all the essentials. With Governor Adam the people know they have a champion and the trust has certainly not been misplaced.

BAY ST. LOUIS AS AN EDUCATIONAL CENTER.

Bay St. Louis has long ago been regarded, and the fact accepted, as a city of homes, and it is also an educational center. No town of this size in the State of Mississippi has as many schools. It was only recently publicly stated, Bay St. Louis had three district and separate accredited high schools.

Another factor worthy of note is found in the increased enrollment reported this week in each and every one of the schools. It is also known families move here in order that their children may procure the best there is in schools.

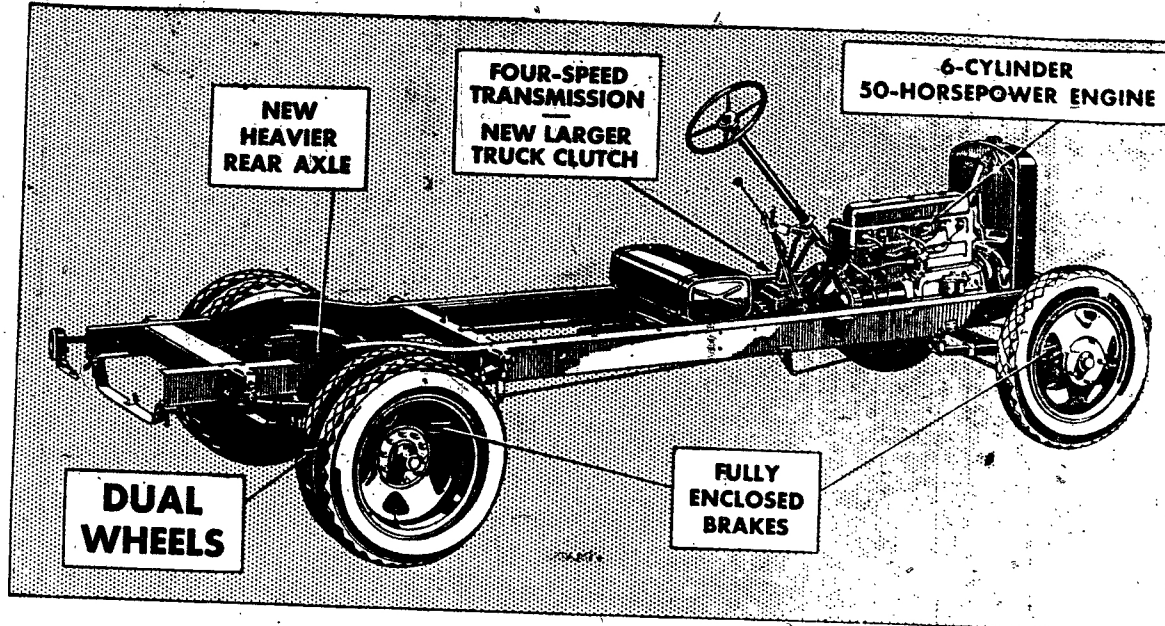

We are very proud of the distinction and rather than deprecate conditions and adverse circumstances that come, and go, it might be well to recommend these better facts that build and go for better things.

EXCURSION RATES TO MISS. GULF COAST.

And now the L. & N. Railroad Company is going to give residents of sections away a chance to come South, to visit the Mississippi Gulf Coast. We have enjoyed the privilege of reduced rates to points East and North. Folks from that section may now visit southward. It is interesting information the L. & N. gives out that on September 12th Main Street, Phone 40.

AZALEA CULTIVATION

By Mrs. Ferriday Byrnes,
Natchez Garden Club.
(Released through the Courtesy of the Garden Club of Mississippi)

There seems to be a perfect frenzy about azaleas just at present, and everyone wants to know the best way to cultivate them. The gardeners who planted the old gardens long ago are all dead and gone, and now we have to learn for ourselves.

The principle thing in the cultivation of azaleas is the soil. If you have in your soil, or maple trees near by, your azaleas are not likely to flourish, no matter how much you water them and protect them from bad weather. Often you will hear it said that certain people just stick azaleas down anywhere and they grow. These people are supposed to have what is known as a "growing hand." What they really have is a "growing soil," the kind that happens to suit azaleas. The Misses Brown at St. Francisville, for instance, apparently take very little trouble with their azaleas, yet their young plants all grow wonderfully. But if you have ever noticed the large number of little oaks and the damp, mouldy soil of the "Roadside" garden, you will know the reason why.

Some of you, too, may happen to have the right sort of soil, but you wish to take the guess out of azalea planting, as far as possible, you may do as follows: Dig a hole eight inches deep, the width to be determined by the size of your plant. At the bottom of this hole, loosen the soil to a depth of four inches. Then fill the hole with a mixture of one third sand, one third peat moss, and one third oak leaf mold—especially live oak leaves.

Oak leaf mold may be prepared in the following manner: When leaves are raked place them in a pit of some kind, and let them stand for a year. They must be rotted as they are to take the place of the earth in the mixture—dry oak leaves will not suffice.

—and the Worst is Yet to Come

CULTURE OF EASTER LILIES ALONG THE MISS. GULF COAST

Prepared For Radio Station WGCM,
Gulfport, by M. B. Allen, P. O.
Box 156, Long Beach Miss.

There are two types of the Easter Lily grown along the Mississippi and Louisiana Gulf Coast. One, the larger and more desirable type, is known by the Florist Trade as Lilium-Harrisii and was, more than likely, imported from improved stock grown in the Bermuda Islands. The trumpet of this lily bloom is usually about seven inches long and it bears from one to seven or eight flowers on a single stem depending on the age and size of the bulb. The type of flower should be preferred by all our gardeners and their stocks should be carefully grown to produce the larger flowers.

The other type is identical in shape of flower, only somewhat smaller, seldom having more than a five inch trumpet. This variety is known as Lilium Eximium and does not make the show the larger type makes.

I have been unable to learn but very little of how these lilies grow in their natural state but are told they are natives of China and Japan. It was learned several years ago that the largest bulbs and those producing the most flowers came from a garden where they had been grown several years in one place without being disturbed. Therefore, we are convinced that our Easter Lilies need not be dug or lifted each year to produce good results. In fact they may be grown in one place from three to five years without being disturbed and the number of flowers should increase each year, which is what they may seem to deteriorate somewhat if not lifted, thinned and replanted.

While Easter Lilies will grow under varied conditions it has been learned they have a preference. This is a well drained, sandy loam, rich in plant food, in at least partial shade. However they do not care for full shade at any time. In our gardens they will grow well when planted near roses or other similar small shrubs which will offer partial shade and some winter protection to the growing plant but still thin which the blooms stalk may push its way just prior to blooming season, as this plant likes to produce its blooms in full sunlight.

If any set rules for planting this beauty of our Coast gardens were made they would require the lily bulbs being planted among the rose beds and other low growing shrubs. When planted in established gardens they could be set in among these growing shrubs by the use of a small

Felt Bad After Eating

"Because I started taking Black Draught, three years ago, my health was very bad," writes Mrs. C. C. Carson, 945 Concord St., Beaumont, Texas. "I suffered constantly from constipation. I had headache when I got up in the morning, and I felt dull and sluggish. I hardly ate a meal that my food agreed with me. Frequently I would have gas on my stomach, and felt awful. I read about Black Draught, and I thought it might help me. After I had taken it a little while, I felt much better. It relieved constipation. I kept it on hand so when I need a laxative I will have it. In the three years I have been taking it, I have never found anything as good for constipation."

WOMEN who are constipated, nervous, suffer every winter should take CARDUI. Used for over 100 years.

MANY ATTEND 10TH ANNIVERSARY GULF SIDE, AT WAVELAND

Two Thousands Visitors Hear Lt. Gov. Adam And Leaders of Colored Race Speak

Two thousand visitors assembled at Gulfside, Waveland, Wednesday to celebrate the tenth anniversary of Gulfside Chautauqua, institute at Waveland, religious, educational and recreational center of the South. The anniversary address was delivered by Dr. H. Moton, principal of Tuskegee Institute and the greetings of the State of Mississippi expressed by Lieutenant Governor Bidwell Adam, who came over from Pass Christian for the occasion and was accompanied by distinguished citizens, including his father, E. J. Adam, Sr., president of the Board of Supervisors of Harrison county and Mayor J. H. Spence. Brief addresses were made by Bishop F. T. Kenney of Atlanta, Bishop W. J. Wall, of Birmingham, L. M. Favrot, of the general education board, and a number of colored presidents.

History of Gulfside.

Gulfside was founded in 1923 by Bishop R. E. Jones of New Orleans as the only summer assembly for negroes in the South. A golf-front property of 64 acres has been acquired and developed and a succession of conferences, schools and institutes are held throughout each summer, attracting five to ten thousand visitors annually. The property is held in trust by the Gulfside Association, a non-profit corporation, which operates the institution only for religious and philanthropic purposes.

Program Subject to Change Without Notice.

WHEN you start at sudden noises, worry over trifles, can't bear the noise that children make, feel irritable and blue—ten to one it's your nerves. Don't wait until your overwrought nerves have kept you awake half the night and paved the way for another miserable day. Take two teaspoonfuls of Dr. Miles' Nerveine and enjoy the relief that follows. Take two more before you go to bed. Sleep—and wake up ready for the day's duties or pleasures. Dr. Miles' Nerveine is now made in two forms—Liquid and Effervescent Tablet. Both are the same therapeutically. Liquid or Effervescent Tablets at all drug stores. Price $1.00

Gulf Coast Hotels Preparing For The Winter Tourist Season

The White House at Biloxi has closed for repairs and renovation after an unusually splendid summer season and will prepare for reception of winter tourist season, reopening December 15.

New Hotel Biloxi, enjoying an active patronage all season will close this Monday, the 15 and the Hotel Tivoli will also close this month in order to prepare for the winter season.

Two major hotels at Biloxi that will not close are the Beuna Vista and Riviera. The popular Markham at Gulfport, Miramar and In-Bay-The-Sea will also continue uninterrupted.

Hotel Edgewater Gulf, closed since early last spring announces reopening for winter season November 7. Manager Dewey advises from Chicago the hotel already has a long list of reservations and many conventions will be held.

The Weston, Bay St. Louis continues enjoying public favor all the year 'round.

Miss Shaw Graduates.

Miss Corinne Shaw, of Sellers, Hancock county, was a member of the graduation of nurses from the training school of the King's Daughters Hospital at Gulfport Wednesday evening. Miss Shaw is well known and is a niece of Hon. Calvin Shaw, former member Board of Supervisors.

Other members graduating that evening were Miss Beatrice Duncan, Lecompte, La.; Miss Ethel Coleman, Mobile; Miss Jean Helveston, Biloxi.

PUBLIC PROTECTION AT GRADE CROSSINGS

One of the uses of the railroad locomotive whistle is to warn people at grade crossings of approaching trains. Such whistling is for safety and in compliance with state laws, but, as added protection, in many places other signal devices supplement the locomotive's warning.

Despite all such precautions, however, the unnecessary toll of automobile accidents at grade crossings continues, and recent statistics show as one feature that about 40 per cent of grade crossing collisions on the L. & N. system are caused, not by locomotives striking automobiles, but by automobiles actually crashing into the sides of the L. & N. trains.

Recently, in a further effort to warn the motorist against his own carelessness, the L. & N. revised its crossing signal whistle, with the following results for the first four months of its adoption in 1930, as compared with those months in 1929 under the old method of whistling:

	1930	1929	Decrease
Accidents at grade crossings	100	189	47%
Killed at grade crossings	2	22	91%
Injured at grade crossings	6	107	95%

THE RECORD SPEAKS FOR ITSELF—20 LIVES SAVED IN FOUR MONTHS AND 64 INJURIES PREVENTED.

The record shows that the exercise of plain, common sense—simply the observance of the universal rule to "Stop, Look and Listen"—will save human life and untold property damage.

The L. & N. is trying to help you save yourself from accidents. Won't you do your part?

FIDELITY
JUDICIARYFATHER HELENSKI
WELL-KNOWN LOCALLY
BACK FROM EUROPEFormer Chaplain at Dunbar,
Now of New Orleans,
Tells of Trip To Old
World.

Rev. J. J. Helenski, former polish chaplain for Catholics at Dunbar, when the Dunbar factories were located there, and since then well-known as identified with Parish work at New Orleans, and who spiritually consoled the many who have gone to their doom on the gallows recently returned from a trip to Europe.

Mary Ellen Foley, feature writer Daily States, after interviewing the priest wrote this story of his trip to the old world.

The Rev. J. J. Helenski, C. M., of St. Joseph's church, who reached New Orleans Wednesday night after a summer in Europe, made the return voyage in as leisurely a manner as most tourists. Not so on the way over. Then he operated a hand-power laundry, specializing in overnight service, with himself as the sole customer, or "patron," or beneficiary. Now he knows not only how to travel light, but how to travel extremely light, when baggage and owner fail to make connections, and when the liner does not have a first aid shop offering apparel for the well-dressed man bereft of his outfit. "I did not know I was such a good laundryman," he said.

The Italian liner Augustus was scheduled to sail from New York June 7. It did but only five minutes after midnight, whereas Father Helenski thought it was to sail at noon. Then followed a frantic rush beginning about 8 a. m. and ending only at noon when a French liner, the Rochambeau, sailing fifteen minutes while her plans were lowered and financial arrangements made.

Then, when he had been aboard long enough to catch his breath after running the last five blocks, after dismissing the taxi, he found his luggage made a nerve-racking trip even more nerve-racking, he thought, of his baggage. The American Express Company had instructed the hotel to send it to the Rochambeau. But the baggage was not there. A radio-gram brought the reply that it would be awaiting him in Paris.

Then Paris meant something more to Father Helenski than boulevards, architecture and history. It meant his baggage. For eight and a half days he looked forward to that reunion in Paris.

Reunited With Baggage

"I generally carry only one handkerchief," he said, "but fortunately I had two with me the day we sailed. I did not know before about drying handkerchiefs on a glass. I did that, and they looked fine. Someone offered me an overcoat, but I declined. But I did accept a pair of socks and a safety razor outfit. At night I washed my clothes, and they looked better than the laundry makes them. I could not buy anything, for there was no shop on the boat selling the things I needed. Toward the end of the trip I sent my suit to be pressed. 'How long will it take?' I asked. 'An hour,' I was told. 'Make it half an hour,' I said. So I stayed in bed while my suit was being pressed.

But the happy reunion in Paris did not happen until five days after Father Helenski arrived there. Even Parisian purchases did not take the keen edge off that reunion. "I was so glad to get my suitcase that I hugged it," he said.

It would have been surprising if Father Helenski had visited a few prisons, just to see how they compare with the American variety, for he had been Catholic chaplain of the Orleans Parish Prison many years and gave a farewell party to the prisoners just before he left New Orleans early in June. The new prison will not be in St. Joseph's parish, but will be in the parish of the Holy Cross Fathers.

"No, I did not visit penal institutions," Father Helenski said, "This was an educational trip."

Liked Passion Play
"The Passion Play at Oberammergau was wonderful. In the tableaux, even with field glasses, it was hard to tell if the characters were really persons or were statues. The man who takes the part of Christ has too little of the spiritual. His voice is too strong. I suppose he thought it necessary to speak loudly because of the large auditorium. But this is his first year in the part. Judas is the best actor of the group. He is very dramatic."

"It has been said incorrectly that presentation of the play is commercial. If it were, it would be given oftener than once in ten years. Besides, there are days when it is given at a very small price for the people of the neighboring country. After a whole season, the proceeds amount to about $25 for each player.

Besides the little matter of running a laundry, this trip was far different from the one he made in 1914. War was declared while he was there and he had to get away from his native Poland by going through fields. That was not the first time he had suffered from German oppression. He, like many Polish children, had been whipped for speaking Polish instead of German.

Poland used to have to send her young men through Germany and ask permission to go to German ships," he said. "The great port was Danzig. Now Poland has her own port, Gdansk. There was no town there before."

Stars of Last Year to be Replaced With New Material—Coach Perkins Sees Fine Football Season Ahead.

The 1930 football training period at Stan'slaus will open Wednesday. Coach Grady Perkins and his assistants face the problem of replacing an entire backfield and several outstanding linemen.

Lost Through Graduation

Such stars as Toca, Genard, Glover, Hallisey, in the backfield, and Falgout, Blaize and Benedetto in the line, have been lost through graduation. However, Perkins has the nucleus of a good line in the following: Camors, Giarratano, D. Genard, ends; Saucier, tackle, Hobbs and Gremillion, guards. "Texas" Linam is the only letterman to return to the backfield. Linam will be remembered as the boy who ran 65 yards to defeat Jesuits last year. Colotta, Vallon, Kidd, James, Toarmina and McCollister of last year's reserves loom as the brightest prospects for backfield berths. Colotta seems to have the inside track for the job of leading signals. The ends are well taken care of in Camors and Giarratano, last year's lettermen, along with Ducassa, the speedy track stars of last session, Lacour, Vicknair and Posner.

Outstanding Linemen.

Luther Saucier, the only tackle left of the lettermen is expected to be one of the outstanding prep school linemen in this section. Wittmann, Bon Lilley, and Ray Loch, will be among those present to fight it out with Saucier for tackle position. A wealth of guard material is on hand in Frank Hobbs, Vallie Gremillion and Dominick Genard, all lettermen. Weatherford, Alaimo, Purple, Kevlin, Reine and Cascio of the reserves. Center position is left vacant with the loss of "Lefty" Blaize; J. Lilley and M. Verlander are the brightest prospects to fill "Lefty's" shoes.

Line Material Plentiful.

Plenty of line material is available, and the prospects for a forward wall are very bright. Filling the places left vacant by the loss of the entire varsity backfield seems to be the chief worry of Coach Perkins. However, with the wonderful spirit shown by all the boys on the various squads of last year, new faces will be seen in competition for a place on the varsity. Candidates for the varsity are as follows: Lettermen, Camors, Giarratano, Saucier, Hobbs, Gremillion, D. Genard, Linam, and Colotta. Reserves from whom much is expected are Ducassa, Lacour, Vicknair, Petrich, Posner, and Andrade, ends; Wittmann, Lilley, Loch, tackles; Weatherford, Alaimo, Purple, Kevlin, Reine and Cascio, guards; J. Lilley, Verlander and Jacobs, centers; Artigue, Vallon, James, Toarmina, Kidd, Judlin, Umbach, Flink, Yalots, Matherne, Blaize and Esquivel, backs.

lish independence, only a few houses. It is a natural port, with a depth of twenty-five or thirty feet. Poland is building her railroad to this port. Poland has great mineral wealth. There are fields and fields of potatoes. "How the Germans do hate the Americans! And they show it. Those that do not are diplomats. Germany has spies, France has spies, all have spies spying on each other. Americans say things they should not say." And the Europeans know all of our scandals at Washington.

"I was in all the drinking countries where beer and wine are drunk as water is drunk in the United States, but all the time I was there I saw only one intoxicated person. The Americans make pigs of themselves, and Europe say 'Yank. Prohibition.' On the boat girls drank so much they had to be helped to bed.

"In Italy and Germany women smoke little. In France they smoke little in public. In Poland they do not smoke at all. But the American girls I saw were more offensive than smokestacks."

SCHOOLS TO OFFER
FORESTRY COURSE
SAFETY MEASUREText Books Prepared by The
State Service to Be Used
In Schools Over Mississippi.

In order to reduce huge annual fire losses to forests of Mississippi through educational steps, schools of the state this year will offer courses involving the first steps in southern forest study.

The book was prepared at the instance of the Mississippi Forest service that teachers might be able to comply with the state law requiring them to provide for proper courses of instruction by text-books or lectures on the general subject of forestry in all the public schools and colleges of the state.

The book was written for Mississippi conditions by Mrs. D. P. Egerton, formerly with the state forest service.

The forestry commission believes that the book, adapted as a basic text for use in the eighth grade will be of the greatest aid in reducing the present estimated $30,000,000 annual loss from forest fires and that it will thus help in solving the vital problems of land use, taxation and employment in Mississippi," said Fred B. Merrill, state forester.

The Echo is of the firm opinion that every child in the country should be well versed in the subject contained in the text books about to be placed in their hands, and further, we think the adult population, too, should be versed in all that pertains to the subject. Our forests are our biggest asset and to conserve them is most essential to the welfare of both the present and future.

KEEP RECORDS

How much do your hens earn for you? If your records—and you should keep careful records of your business—show that you are operating a losing enterprise, make an analysis of the whole proposition and find the cause. Poultry husbandry is very generally profitable in the South, as an agricultural college survey of a large number of poultry flocks in Georgia clearly shows.

One flock of 1500 layers produced a net profit of $6,503, or $4.33 per bird. Understand, this is not merely a laying profit, but a net profit after paying the cost of labor, as well as all the other expenses. In addition to being paid for his work, the owner of this outstanding flock received an additional income of $125 per week.—Dixie Poultry Journal.

HISTORIC JEFFERSON
COLLEGE OF LOUISIANA
CHANGE OWNERSHIPProperty in St. James Parish
To Pass Into Hands Of Jesuit Fathers.

A press telegram says Jefferson college, situated in the parish of St. James, 60 miles above the city of New Orleans on the Jefferson highway, is soon to pass into the hands of the Jesuit fathers. Built in 1830 under the patronage of Governor Bienville Roman, the college was named in honor of President Thomas Jefferson and was incorporated by an act of the Legislature in 1835. For a period of ten years endowed by the state of a yearly sum of $15,000, but in 1842 the college was destroyed by fire.

Rebuilt in 1843, the college's appropriation from the state ceased at the close of 1845, and after the college closed its doors. Through the efforts of Valour Aime, a wealthy planter of the right bank of the river, aided by others, the college was reopened under the title of Louisiana college, but it closed again in 1859.

Seized and sold at auction, the college and grounds were purchased by Valour Aime for $20,000 March 5, 1861. The school was again opened under the name of Jefferson College. At the opening of the Civil War it was again forced to suspend its work. When the parish was invaded by federal troops the college was used as a barracks. At the termination of the war the stockholders were unable to assume the work of re-erecting and reorganization. On the suggestion of Archbishop Odin of the see of New Orleans, the college and the grounds were offered to the Marist Order of France. The matter was referred to Rev. Henri Bellanger, at that time pastor of St. Michael's church, Convent, who made the purchase for his order, and July 12, 1864, the Marist Fathers became owners of this old institution.

CITY ECHOES

Mrs. E. J. Leonhard returned home Tuesday evening from New Orleans where she spent two days visiting.

Messrs. Bernard Knott and L. L. Lazar, business men of Pass Christian, arrived at Bay St. Louis Rotary luncheon Wednesday.

W. H. Slinger, well-known upholsterer, advertises samples of new velours, silks and tapestry and that he is ready for fall work.

Miss Claire Ferran is the attractive young guest of her friend, Miss Joy Chalona at the family summer home, and will return to her home today.

Among the collegians arriving Sunday at St. Stanislaus was Bascom Tally, Jr., well-known young man of Bogalusa, who again has resumed his studies at the popular institution.

Miss Decima Rea, of Wesson, Miss., recently returned from Europe, is visiting at the home of her brother, Mr. George R. Rea, at the family home in Washington avenue.

Robert L. Genin, attorney for the city left Tuesday morning for Jackson, Miss., where he was called on professional business, making the trip to and fro in his big car.

Mrs. Stanford G. Beatty has returned home from a week-end trip to New Orleans where she was visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Simon.

Miss Emma Edwards is spending a while in New Orleans, visiting at the home of her brother, Mr. Geo. H. Edwards, Mrs. Edwards and their family in Neron Place.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lasker, son and daughter, will close their summer home for the season in St. Charles street, and return to New Orleans, regretted by a circle of many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Benjamin had as their house guests for the week-end their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Leonard, at their inviting home in Citizen street.

Mrs. J. C. Buckley has returned from New Orleans, where she spent two days visiting friends and relatives, and was the house guest of her mother, Mrs. Chrisler.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Judlin have returned to their home in New Orleans after spending a while with Bay St. Louis friends, house guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. V. Holzer in Carroll avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonce Bonnezace and children left Friday afternoon for New Orleans, where Mr. Bonnezace is engaged in business pursuit. They spent the past full year very pleasantly in the bungalow at 115 Uman avenue.

Mr. Marchmont Schwartz, splendid young son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schwartz, and grandson of Mrs. Remy Klock, left a few days since to resume his junior year studies at Notre Dame. He spent part of his vacation in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Penn and accomplished young daughters, Misses Lydia and Georgia Penn, have leased an attractive beach apartment on the North Beach Boulevard for September, prior to the active social season in New Orleans.

Miss Dorothy Moss, daughter of Mr. Clyde Moss, publisher of the Enterprise, accompanied by the young ladies who registered at St. Joseph's Academy, Bay St. Louis this week. Miss Moss will be a senior student this year, her fourth year at the academy.

The statement made last week in these columns that Mr. Fred Banderet, Sr., had come to this country from Switzerland over thirty years ago, to be more specific should have said he landed in New Orleans from the old country in 1885.

Miss May Edwards, professional teacher, who has been one of the faculty of Miss McGee School, fashionable institution of learning for young ladies at New Orleans, will not resume her work there this winter, preferring to remain at home for a season, and will engage in specializing pursuit.

"Dixiana," moving picture feature, giving its premier showing at New Orleans last week to a crowded house of reserved seats, is the big feature at A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday nights. Scenes depict New Orleans Mardi Gras fifty years ago and is presented in technicolor photography.

The Echo learns with interest of the continued improvement of the Adam Lorch, Sr., who has been at Toure Infirmary, New Orleans the past several weeks, victim of pernicious and unusual fever, the germ for which is generally traced to sheep, goat and kindred animals. News of his improvement will prove pleasing to many.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chalona and family will close their summer villa on Clermont Beach and return to New Orleans this Friday morning to their winter home in Newcomb Boulevard, after a most delightful season on the coast, entertaining many guests from time to time. They plan many week-end trips to Clermont, as usual, this winter.

Clerk of the Courts, A. G. Favre, returned home Tuesday night from a hurried business trip to the State Capital, where he is well known in official circles, mingling with friends at the Capitol. He plans to go later with members of the board of supervisors in the interest of county assessments for the State, if that body should have occasion to go.

Miss Elsie Mauffray returned home a few days since from a visit of several days in Biloxi, where she was the house guest of her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. A. Curet. Miss Mauffray, the week previously, was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Thompson, who attended the wedding of her relative, Miss Reteta Trochessette of Biloxi to Mr. Carl Beyer, of Louisiana, in charge of the laboratory department of Standard Oil Company, both well-known and prominent young people of the coast.

Demonstration at Mauffray's Store This Saturday All Day

Ladies of the city and community will be interested to learn of the special demonstration at Mauffray's Store by Gossard's representative, which will take place this Saturday, 13, from 10 o'clock A. M. to 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Advertisement of Gossard product appears elsewhere in this issue of The Echo. Ladies are particularly invited through this medium.

Rotary to Picayune Friday, October 10, Is Tentative Date

Bay St. Louis Rotarians are looking forward to the tentative date of Friday, October 10, when Picayune Rotary Club plans to hold its inter-city meet. Bay St. Louis recently accepted the invitation. This will be their first meeting with the Pearl River county Rotas. The impression that the intercity meet was for Sept. 10 is erroneous.

For Dental Hygiene.

Miss Jean Carrington, director of dental hygiene, Mississippi Health Department, is scheduled for two weeks at the Bay High School, under auspices Parent-Teachers Association for a period of two weeks' time to be duly announced.

V. E. Allen, traveling representative for the Petroleum Oil and Gas Company, Tower Bldg., Jackson, Miss., was a visitor to the city Hall during the week. He reports the gas well, with already over a dozen major wells, and the possibility of oil.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Welch, Betty and Joan Welch, and Mr. Welch's mother, have closed their beach home for the winter and left at an early hour Friday morning by auto for Indianapolis, Ind., where his business headquarters are located. Their presence will be missed by Mr. Welch was an ardent golfer and coach links will miss him as well.

Miss Chaddy Elliott, who has spent the summer at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Elliott and family, here, returned to New Orleans Saturday, to continue her studies at St. Stephens School, living with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hartman Thompson on Peniston street. Miss Elliott will return to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Gex, Junior, have moved into their elegant new English type dwelling on the South Beach Boulevard, where they are charmingly domiciled and "at home" to their friends. Their home is one of the many that ornament that section of the city. Smith and Norwood were the designing and supervising architects and Garcia and Carr, contractors and builders.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Taylor and family left Friday of last week for New Orleans, where they are again domiciled for the winter at 8001 Hickory street. They occupied one of the attractive bungalows at Clermont Harbor. They had as their guests for the season Misses Rosetta and Ann McGinn, and earlier in the season Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. McGinn and children, all of New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. George Boudin have returned from their "honeymoon" trip to Mobile, and on Sunday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Boudin a number of friends assembled on the occasion of cutting the wedding cake, which proved both interesting and enjoyable. The young couple are making their home with the bride's father, Mr. Evariste Fayard in Second street and Railroad avenue.

W. C. Evans, chief of the division auditing department, Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, left Sunday for Montgomery, Ala., where the department will be located in future, leaving Bay St. Louis reluctantly and with many newly-made friends covering a period of residence here. Mr. Evans' family have gone to Louisville, Ky., where they will visit until later before going to Montgomery. While here they resided at 307 Carroll avenue.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Engagement of Mr. Lucien M. Gex, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Gex, of Bay St. Louis, and Miss Geraldine Calhoun, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Calhoun, of New Orleans, has been announced.

The wedding, to be a church affair, will take place in New Orleans on Saturday, October 25. The young couple will make their home in Bay St. Louis, to occupy an attractive apartment on the Beach Boulevard.

MRS. FOURNIER HONORS MRS. RICHARD BRYSON.

Complimenting her house guest, Mrs. Richard Bryson, of Louisville, Ky., Mrs. A. F. Fournier was hostess Thursday afternoon to an informal party at bridge at her beautiful and hospital home on the Waveland beach front. Beautiful trophies, embroidered handkerchiefs or different colors, were awarded to the successful contestants. Mrs. George E. Pitcher captured the first high score prize while Mrs. Alvah P. Smith the second, in addition to the guest souvenir to Mrs. Bryson.

Mrs. Bryson, accompanied by her two children, is on a two weeks' visit to relatives and friends in this section, and while here will be the charming houseguest of Mrs. Fournier and daughter, Miss Marjorie.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON AT THE ORIOLE.

One of the loveliest bridge-luncheons of the season was given at the Oriole, Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Edmund F. Fahey as hostess. The tea room was beautifully decorated with trailing green vines interwoven with sprays of Rose of Montana. The table decoration was carried out in orchid and green. Laverand Rose of Sharon, asparagus fern, and Alrum trees being used. A variety of fringed Hohenaria and other wild flowers added charm to the room.

Mrs. Fahey's guests included: Mrs. W. J. Curry, Mrs. Milton Lasker, Mrs. H. W. Kane, Mrs. J. C. Buckley, Mrs. F. J. Bopp, Mrs. William Staehle, Mrs. Chas. Charles McNeill and Mrs. K. W. Pepperdine. Mrs. Lasker was awarded first prize, a lovely shadow lamp. Mrs. Kane, second prize, an attractive silver and green glass bon bon dish. Cut prize was won by Mrs. Staehle, a beautiful linen bag.

ADVERTISING IN THE LOCAL NEWS PAPER

The area of the trade territory of every city and town is measured by inducements and advantages offered by its business concerns. To draw trade it is necessary for the business men to make the price of their goods attractive to customers and trade will surely come to them. It is only necessary to acquaint the people at a distance with the fact that their patronage would be appreciated and back that up by the assurance that no article of equal quality offered for sale can be purchased anywhere for less money. The only medium through which they can be informed regarding where the merchandise may be had in an advertisement in the local newspaper which goes into all the homes within a radius of many miles of where it is printed.
